Russia Launches Cosmic Rocket Expected To Be In Vicinity Of Moon Today

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union boasted today that its new cosmic rocket will be the "first artificial planet and a satellite of the sun."

The rocket will miss the moon, passing it at a distance of between 3,750 and 5,000 miles, Moscow Radio said.

The rocket, which was launched Friday, was still on course at 1 p. m. Moscow time (5 a. m. EST). It had traveled 130,789 miles from the earth.

The radio kept jubilant and eager Soviet citizens well informed on the progress of the rocket, furnishing some details of its travel. The moon is now about 219,000 miles from the earth. The sun is about 93 million miles away.

In Vicinity Of Moon

The Soviet government predicted the rocket will reach the vicinity of the moon about 11 p. m. EST today. The expected time of arrival in the area of the sun was not announced.

At the time when U.S. scientists thought an American moon shot would pass the moon and head toward the sun, they said the rocket probably would be burned up in the sun.

The Soviet announcement indicated otherwise. The Kremlin expects its rocket to survive the fierce heat around the center of the solar system.

There was no indication of how long Soviet scientists expect the rocket to survive as a planet.

Fate Not Known

Viktor Hozikin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, had said earlier that it was still uncertain what would be the fate of the rocket.

He described it as a "very great success," especially since it was much heavier and had traveled much farther than American attempts.

The Russians said their rocket's scientific apparatus was working normally. It was reported over northeastern Brazil at 5 a. m. EST today.

The radio said the temperature on the rocket's surface was 15 to 20 degrees centigrade—27 to 36 degrees Fahrenheit.

Plan Further Flights

The Soviet government has said it will prepare to put men on the moon in a future expedition. From there flights further into space can be launched, it said.

A top Soviet scientist, Director Dimitry Martynov of the Stern Institute, said he considers the rocket "a true last rehearsal for the real cosmic journey... a stage toward interplanetary journeys has been really achieved."

The Red rocket to the sun has already gone farther than the best of four unsuccessful U.S. attempts to reach the moon.

The 85-pound U.S. Air Force moon probe Pioneer I soared 71,300 miles before errors of launching angle and propulsion speed caused it to fall back.

The moon will be about 219,000 miles from the earth at the time the Soviet government says its rocket will get there.

The Russian "cosmic ship" weighs about 3,239 pounds without fuel," Moscow Radio reported.

Can Carry Man

The Russians have long talked about setting up space stations in orbit around the earth as the launching point for travels farther into the solar system. The weight of their moon rocket indicates they can now send up a vehicle large enough to carry a man.

But the government did not specify when it would set up an expedition to the moon. No details of the preparations were given.

Even before the rocket had time to leave the earth's atmosphere, the government proclaimed it "the first successful inter-planetary flight."

Multistage Rocket

They described the space device as a multistage rocket with a Soviet flag and the legend "U.S.S.R., January 1959" in the nose.

There was no mention of the overall weight, including the first stages that burned out and dropped off to allow the 3,239 pound final stage to rifle on through space. The space vehicle was reported to contain 76½ pounds of instruments. Its dimensions were not given.

It also carried special equipment to create the sodium cloud of an artificial comet, Moscow Radio said.

Over Pacific Ocean

Without specifying where it took off, the rocket was reported to have flashed eastward across the Soviet Union, climbed above the Hawaiian Islands and was moving away from the earth over the Pacific Ocean.

SAYS '58 WAS GOOD YEAR FOR ADAMS FARMER

1958 "seemed a good year for the general livestock farmer," and while the number of dairy herds decreased, the size of the individual herds increased, according to the annual report of County Agent Frank S. Zettle. "In many respects 1958 was a little better than last year" for the general livestock farmer. "Breeding herds in the county with the aid of good pastures and high beef feeder prizes showed some profit this year," he said.

"To improve the quality of our herds in the county, we have encouraged the use of production performance testing. We now have two herds in the county which are using the testing program to almost its fullest degree. These herds are both purebred herds and will be able to furnish better quality animals and better records of the background of the animals in the future.

Sheep On Increase
"Sheep production in the county is on the increase even though prices of wool were below last year's. The incentive payment program helps to keep the margins above operating costs. The general outlook for sheep in the county looks bright. The management of sheep fits in well with the facilities of our full-time and part-time farmers.

"The number of farm sales and dairy herd dispersals resulted in bringing about a decrease in the total number of dairy farms in Adams County. With a trend toward larger units for production, total cow numbers stay nearly the same. With fewer, but larger, herds, more emphasis is being placed on quality of cattle in the phases of production, type, pedigree and purebred animals.

Two Rebels Slain
Two rebels were shot dead Friday night near the Hilton Hotel and another near the University of Havana.

Some areas of the fashionable West Side were blocked off and barricaded. Most foreigners stayed inside hotels, where the food supplies began to run low.

Better Buildings, Methods
"With the expense in size of units came requests, for information on construction of new dairy buildings as well as remodeling of existing ones.

Interested In Marketing
"Marketing milk and dairy products is a phase that brought nearly 500 people to eight marketing meetings. Five of these were set up as a milk marketing school at which the topics of classification, pricing plans, individual handler pools, market-wide pools, state and federal orders were explained and discussed.

"This year has also seen the largest number of 4-H calves exhibited at the local roundup, district show and local fairs. The 4-H Dairy Club members have also received more encouragement, aid and interest from established breeders and parents."

Havana Waits Tensely For Castro's Triumphant Entry After Batista Overthrow

HAVANA (AP)—The bearded rebel leader Fidel Castro made arrangements for a quick flight to Havana today to restore authority to this strife-torn capital.

A Viscount airplane warmed up to bring Castro and Judge Manuel Urrutia, the man he has designated for temporary president, from their provisional capital of Santiago at the eastern end of the island.

The prospects were good that the provisional government would be set up by night-fall.

By LARRY ALLEN

HAVANA (AP) — The Capital waited tensely today for the arrival of Fidel Castro. The rebel leader has announced plans for a triumphal march to Havana from his headquarters in Santiago at the other end of Cuba.

Castro's forces now completely control Cuba. Castro said in a broadcast Friday night he would be leaving for Havana shortly but did not say when.

Indications were that he would arrive shortly with his man for provisional president, Manuel Urrutia, and install him in office.

Seize Army Garrison

The rebels came out of the hills Friday night and assumed control of all army garrisons, government buildings and police stations in westernmost Pinar Del Rio province.

A fierce and bloody battle between rebel tanks and diehard Batista followers accompanied the occupation of Havana by Castro followers Friday. More than 40 men were believed dead and estimates of the wounded ran to 450.

Gunfire was heard in various sections of Havana during the night. Bands of gun-toting rebel youths roamed the city hunting enemies of Castro and claiming control of sections of this city of 1½ million persons.

Doctor Leads 600

Some 600 of Castro's top fighting men arrived in Havana before dawn from Las Villas province. They were led by Ernesto Guevara, an Argentine medical doctor who as one of Castro's top lieutenants was a commander in the crucial battle of Santa Clara.

Although a general strike called by the rebels until Urrutia takes over is only 48 hours old, food is already in short supply. Some grocery stores were broken into and looted during the night in central Havana. Police were rushed to the scenes to break up raids.

Unless the strike ends and there is a halt to the violence arising out of the political situation, bloody riots may also develop.

Two Rebels Slain
Two rebels were shot dead Friday night near the Hilton Hotel and another near the University of Havana.

Some areas of the fashionable West Side were blocked off and barricaded. Most foreigners stayed inside hotels, where the food supplies began to run low.

The strike shut down transportation except for a few taxis. Stores were closed, and it was impossible to buy many necessities. Havana's radio warned partisans against unnecessary shooting, and the rebels declared looters would be dealt with severely. Rebel patrols tried to keep order in the streets.

Yanks Await Transportation
Rebels kept pedestrians and automobiles from the Hotel Nacional, where many Americans were waiting for transportation home.

The drive will follow the annual custom of securing sponsorships for the dance, mailing of letters to auto owners for donations, placing of 450 coin boxes and activities in the schools.

The drive this year, in addition to raising funds to help persons who are afflicted by infantile paralysis, will also raise funds for research in such medical problems as arthritis, congenital malformations and virus diseases.

Both of the men own .38 caliber revolvers, police said, Donald Leatherman having obtained his recently. The two men were discussing the two weapons and had been looking over Earl Leatherman's pistol.

Donald Leatherman then attempted to pull his gun from its holster to place it on the table for comparison with the other weapon and the firearm discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Leatherman, according to police.

The officers said they plan to continue their investigation of the possibility of an infraction of the firearms law being brought against Donald Leatherman as a result of the accident.

Auto Toll For Holidays Is Piling Up At Rapid Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic — 221
Fires — 40
Miscellaneous — 60
Total — 321

The new year holiday auto toll, triggered by a relentless assault by motorists on the highways, piled up today at a bloody clip, which threatened the record for a similar four-day period two years ago.

The grim prospect that the death count might reach the record of 409 auto fatalities for the 1956-57 new year period brought an anxious appeal from the National Safety Council for drivers to slam on the brakes and curb the toll.

The NSC had predicted 390 auto deaths for the 102-hour period that started at 6 p. m. (local time) Wednesday. The Associated Press count ends at midnight (local time) Sunday.

An unexpected rash of highway deaths late Friday night shot the toll to a pace ahead of a corresponding count two years ago.

The NSC feared the combined Christmas and New Year total was likely to result in the stunning figure of nearly 1,000 auto deaths on the nation's roads.

Plead For Care

Some 594 Americans paid in their lives for auto accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday. Two years ago the Christmas weekend showed 706 auto deaths, which combined with the New Year's figure, added to an all-time high of 1,115.

The Council today again pleaded for drivers to exert special care on the roads as the AP countdown headed into the weekend homestretch.

A non-holiday survey by the AP for 102 hours from 6 p. m. Wednesday Dec. 10 to 12 midnight Sunday Dec. 14 showed 341 traffic fatalities, 106 fire deaths, and 105 fatally injured in miscellaneous mishaps.

Police Called To Prevent "Suicide"

"The lady," said the state policeman sent to investigate, "was trying to scare her daughter and she succeeded."

The incident investigated by state policemen from the local substation Friday afternoon started with a terrified voice on the telephone asking an officer to come at once to a home in the county "because my mother is running around with a gun and she's going to commit suicide."

Rushing to the scene, the officer found mother and daughter. The mother had a toy revolver and a desire to frighten her daughter into compliance with her wishes.

Mother and officer had a heart talk on proper accepted methods of getting one's own way and the place of guns in such affairs.

Havana

could not be allowed to continue to the hotel because they were in danger of being shot by patrols from another rebel faction. The rebel promised escort to a nearby hotel for the night.

470 Yanks Leave
About 470 American tourists and vacationing students left on the ocean-going ferry City of Havana for Key West, Fla. The U.S. State Department sent the ferry because normal shipping and airline services had been canceled.

The U.S. embassy said the ferry would come back tonight for any other Americans who wanted to leave. The State Department in Washington said three U.S. destroyer escorts and two auxiliary vessels were standing by off Cuba in case of need.

An International Airline executive said Friday night that nearly all offices of foreign airlines in the city were attacked and looted by mobs during the past two days.

Use Army Tanks, Guns
The battle erupted Friday as Castro followers streamed into the city from all directions. Now in control of the army, the rebels poured its tanks and guns into the three-hour fight within sight of the Presidential Palace.

Several hundred followers of fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista were apparently defeated — but there could be more fighting to come.

The shooting around a business block lasted from shortly before noon until around 3 p.m. Informal sources emphasized no accurate count of casualties was possible because of the unsettled conditions.

Tigers Flee
The Batista followers were a group of perhaps 200 to 300 men called the Tigers. They were a private army which followed Sen. Rolando Masferrer, a pro-Batista publisher who has fled on his yacht. The Tigers specialized in killing enemies of the Batista regime and plundering rebel sympathizers.

In a broadcast from Santiago, Castro charged that he had been betrayed in his plan to occupy Havana peacefully. The rebel leader said he had made a deal with Maj. Gen. Eulogio Cantillo to turn over power without trouble. Cantillo took command of government troops after Batista fled to the Dominican Republic early Thursday.

The rebels said in a broadcast from Santa Clara that they lost only five killed in the savage fighting for that capital of Las Villas province last week, and that 13 civilians were killed and 39 wounded. The Batista government had said rebel casualties were 3,000. A government source said 1,000 or more army men had fallen.

The army losses are believed to have caused Batista to fear his troops would turn against him rather than continuing the 25-month-old fight against Castro's guerrilla warriors. This fear presumably led to the dictator's flight. Hundreds of top Batista men fled abroad when the dictator left.

"WHO SPEAKS?"

"Who speaks?" said the weary passerby . . . pausing with an icy chill . . . and the moon hid 'neath an ebony crepe . . . as it sank behind the hill . . . he was all alone, yet he heard a voice . . . just as plain as plain could be . . . and imagination made him feel . . . someone stood beside a tree . . . "Who speaks? I beseech thee answer me . . . tell me what you want to know . . . stand your distance, I can see you now . . . bobbing gently to and fro . . . and a bat flew down from its lofty perch . . . while the wind began to rave . . . hollow sounds of nothingness . . . like echoes from the grave . . . and again with quivering voice he said . . . "Who speaks? Answer or you die" . . . but the moon showed him an empty space . . . as it bounced back in the sky.

LONDON (AP)—The time set by four Britons for their balloon crossing of the Atlantic ran out today with still no word of the adventurers.

When the balloon "The Small World" took off from the Canary Islands Dec. 12, the crew of three men and a woman were confident they would make the West Indies by today at the latest.

But nothing has been heard from the balloon's radio for 15 days. The 46-foot silver and black bag has not been sighted since Dec. 14, when a German tanker spotted it 300 miles from the Canaries. Then it still had nearly 3,000 miles to go.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Board of Education announced today it will enclose all open stairwells in 79 older public schools at an estimated cost of $300,000.

Dr. Allen H. Wetter, superintendent of schools, made the announcement after a smoke bomb test in one school indicated the effectiveness of a wooden staircase enclosure.

Beatification Of Mother Seton, Founder Of Saint Joseph College, Is Near

St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, marking its 150th year, starts the anniversary with the word of a Cardinal that the beatification of Mother Elizabeth Seton, founder of the school and of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent De Paul in North America, may be announced by the Catholic Church within two years.

December 18, Pope John XXIII held a consistory in Rome at which a number of newly created Cardinals received their red hats.

At the public gathering courtly, gray bearded Francesco Saverio Parisi, Roman canon lawyer who is serving as "Avvocato Consistoriale" for the cause of Mother Seton stepped forward before the papal throne and in Latin read: "A most agreeable task comes to me entrusted to plead the cause of the servant of God, Elizabeth Ann Seton, who in her life combined the duties of virgin, wife, founder of a religious house and in every one of these various duties exercised all the Christian virtues in an exemplary fashion."

He then gave a brief history of the life of Mother Seton, concluding "I, 'dowed, she devoted all her excellent works of charity to young girls, orphans, the poor and neglected, founding with the approval of the Most Rev. Carroll, archbishop of Baltimore, a congregation of sisters under the patronage of St. Joseph."

Among the cardinals receiving the red hat at the consistory was His Eminence Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, for many years apostolic delegate to the United States. Following the service Cardinal Cicognani said the pronouncement at the consistory was "almost like a forecast of the successful conclusion of her beatification process."

The former apostolic delegate in Washington said, "The eventual beatification of Mother Seton is important to the Church in the United States not only because Mother Seton may be the first native-born U. S. citizen to be so honored, but because of her place in American history and because of the elements of her personal life."

"Pray For Outcome" "It is significant," he said, because this cause petitioned by the American episcopate will be another milestone in the steady development and maturity of the Church in the United States if it proves to be successful."

Cardinal Cicognani said it is "timely for American Catholics to acquaint themselves with the life of the American convert and nun and to pray for the successful outcome of the process for her beatification."

Pope John's action on the petition brings the matter to the Vatican's Congregation of Rites for a decision. It was noted that the cause is now at a point where beatification "could come within two years," and that the introduction of a cause for beatification is a strong presumption in its favor. It was also noted that many causes continue for years before ultimate decision is reached.

Must Perform Miracles To merit beatification, by which she would acquire the title of "Blessed," it must be established to the satisfaction of the Congregation of Rites — one of the twelve congregations of the Roman Curia, that two miracles may be attributed to Mother Seton's intercession. Verification of two more miracles would be required in the canonization process should be the Pope wish to proclaim her a saint.

The first steps toward the beatification of Mother Seton were taken in 1907 before an ecclesiastical court at Baltimore. The court closed in 1924, after having heard numerous witnesses. The dossier of Mother Seton was taken to Rome in 1940.

Native Of New York Mother Seton was a native of New York, born August 28, 1774. At 20 she married William Magee Seton, a financier and shipowner. Her husband died, leaving her a widow with five children. In 1805 she and her children became Catholics, having been Anglicans. In 1808 she and her children moved to Baltimore and she became a nun. She established a school at Emmitsburg which has been called the beginning of the parochial school system in the U. S. She established the Sisters of Charity and thus became founder of many orphanages and schools in the U. S.

Rev. Fr. Salvatore Burgio is vice postulator of the cause of Mother Seton. The Mother Seton Guild headquarters has been in Emmitsburg for a number of years.

LOWEST FATALITY RECORD
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia in 1958 had the lowest traffic fatality and injury record since 1951, Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons reported Friday.

There were 157 people killed and 11,896 injured on city streets last year. In 1957, 173 were killed and 12,976 injured.

was sent up at a cosmic speed of seven miles a second. This speed is needed for an object to go into orbit around the earth. Later it reportedly reached "second cosmic speed," meaning fast enough to reach the moon and possibly the sun.

There was nothing to indicate any living thing was in the rocket.

Hear High Tone

Some of the instruments reported to be aboard measured the earth's magnetic field, radioactivity, gas components of interplanetary matter and the intensity of cosmic rays.

Radio technicians in the west who lacked the Soviet code to interpret the rocket's radio signals said they had a high-pitched tone of varying frequency. The rocket was transmitting on three wave lengths. One transmitter was sending on 19.997 and 19.995 megahertz, the second on 19.993 megahertz and the third on 183.6 megahertz. A megahertz is a unit of electrical radio waves similar to the megacycle.

NEW TAXES AND HUGE DEFICIT FACE SOLONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—About the only certain thing about the 1959 session of the General Assembly which begins next week is the bright, clean appearance awaiting the 260 legislators in the House and Senate chambers.

It is also fairly certain they will have to raise taxes to finance expansion of educational, public welfare, industrial development and highways programs.

It also would seem obvious that public expressions from legislative leaders that this will be a short, businesslike session is so much whistling in the dark. But nothing like the long session which marked the beginning of Gov. Leader's four-year term is expected to occur at the beginning of Gov.-elect Lawrence's tenure. The 1955 session wore on into mid-1956.

Refurbish Churches

For the upcoming session, the two chambers have been cleaned, repainted, polished and otherwise put in spic-and-span shape. Four new, self-service elevators also have been installed to replace the antique elevators that were in use the last time the Assembly met, in 1957.

Of a more practical nature, the legislators will be confronted by a 100-million-dollar deficit in the budget for the current biennium, which expires next May 31, and an estimated increase in the budget for the 1959-61 biennium of about half a million dollars.

Among the suggestions for meeting this new tax need have been broadening the 3 per cent sales tax, increasing the cigarette tax, increasing the gasoline tax and revising the soft drinks tax.

Group Studies Problems

The cigarette tax is now five cents a pack and the gasoline tax five cents a gallon.

Lawrence already has a 12-member, bipartisan committee studying the problem of tax revenues.

The Legislature's opening day Tuesday is strictly a ceremonial affair, for installing the members and electing officers for the session. Gov. Leader also will deliver in person his final message. It is expected to be confined to a review of his four years as governor. Lawrence takes office Jan. 20. After conclusion of Tuesday's business, the two houses will adjourn until Jan. 19.

Other Issues

It is expected to be late February before Lawrence submits his budget to the House.

Besides the money needs, the major issues include proposals to: Legalize radar for enforcing highway speed limits, extend the school year, allow a referendum on the question of permitting horse racing in the state, amend the Constitution to allow annual legislative sessions, extend civil service, restrict liquor licenses in areas where there already are many licenses, abolish the Milk Control Commission, lessen control of the state over boroughs and townships.

FOUR ASPHYXIATED

CORNING, N. Y. (AP)—Four persons, including a couple who were the parents of five children, were found dead in bed in a duplex house in downtown Corning Friday.

Authorities said they had apparently been asphyxiated by fumes from a space heater.

Two of the victims were identified as Gordon Montgomery and his wife, Alice, who occupied half of the house.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles will remain open Saturdays during January to service operators' license applications. The 1958 operators' cards expire Jan. 31.

TEN YEARS AGO

1948 Was Warm Wet Year With 59 Inches Of Snow: Although 1948 brought more extreme temperatures than Gettysburg and Adams County experienced in several years, it went into the records as an abnormally warm year that saw rainfall total two inches above normal.

Gettysburg Times weather records show that nine months last year were warmer than usual. Only January and October were slightly cooler than normal while August's readings averaged exactly normal for that month.

The record for a warm year was hung up in spite of 29.6 inches of snowfall and a record low temperature of seven below zero last January 26.

Hottest day of the year was August 27 when the mercury climbed to 100 degrees.

Noisy Welcome For New Year In Gettysburg: Church bells rang, factory whistles blew, automobile horns added their blasts and people shouted "Happy New Year" at each other on the stroke of midnight Friday night as 1949 was welcomed in Gettysburg in the usual and time-honored manner.

New Year's festivities got underway much earlier and continued considerably after midnight however. All of the clubs had dances and the Elks, Moose, Eagles and American Legion were jammed with celebrators.

Lincoln Anniversary Events Voted Top Local News Story For 1948: Other Selections: Nineteen forty-eight's biggest local news story was the November 19th celebration commemorating the 85th anniversary of the dedication of the National Cemetery here.

The 10 top local stories were selected as:
1. The November 19 activities with the Freedom Train here, the issuance of the Lincoln commemorative stamp which set new records in sales, the talk by Atty. Gen. Tom Clark and the exercises that drew national attention.

2. The reconstruction of the Lincoln Highway West of Gettysburg, a story that will continue over into 1949 when the completed road is opened to the public.

3. Organization of the Gettysburg Community Chest and the successful first Community Chest drive.

4. South Mountain Fair resumed with construction of new buildings, including the Memorial auditorium and with 20,000 attending the fair.

5. Formation of the county's school system into jointures, with centers at Gettysburg, New Oxford, Littlestown, East Berlin, Fairfield and York Springs, thus completing a reorganization that began in 1947 with the Upper Adams jointure at Biglerville.

6. Establishment of a committee of 22 for the county's Sesquicentennial to be held in 1950, a news story that will grow in significance and activity over the next two years.

7. Ray Simmons' escape from Dauphin County prison and his recapture. He has been condemned to die for the murder of Herbert Humpert.

8. Establishment of an authority by the borough to purchase the water company, another story that will continue into the new year.

9. Opening of the new county jail.

10. Opening of the Gettysburg Country Club home and grounds. There were numerous other stories that could receive special mention, but the list would be too long. It was a good year, financially and otherwise for the county and for most countians, and it was a year of many and varied activities, one well worth recording in the annals of the county's history.

ON ENTHUSIASM

We grow interested and enthused as we look upon the many enthusiasms of others. Take bowling, for example. I used to look upon this sport as uninteresting and rather a waste of valuable time. Then one day I thought I would try the game. I became so interested that I took up one type of bowling—and became the outstanding player in my local club.

Interest in this game has now become almost phenomenal. New clubs and alleys are being built and opened across the country from Maine to Los Angeles. It's a fascinating game, taking skill, good temper, and an accurate eye. Rarely has any sport aroused so much interest in so short a time. Both men and women, as well as teen-agers, have taken to this revival of a great game, and its new popularity is growing by leaps and bounds.

Bowling is a game that has its perfect score of 300. It is a game in which no player has to be taken from the field on a stretcher! Except safely, as a tribute to his skill and sportsmanship! It is a friendly game yet full of thrills. It promises to become the most outstanding sport in America, and many other countries. For years bowling has been mildly popular, but now it leaps to new heights of interest and enthusiasm. As an indoor sport it is sure to head the list, for anyone can aspire to personal championship honors who has determination and the desire to excel.

Any sport that creates enthusiasm is a good one to which to tie, as either player or observer. Bowling is an ideal indoor sport, one sure to last a long time—as long as one's ambition lives and leaps!

My part in life —
What is it, pray?
To face the strife
From day to day,
To fight for place
And fame and gold,
And keep the pace
Until I'm old;
To rush along
With visage stern;
One habit, strong,
And that, to earn?
Or may I rest
Neath sunny skies
And look with zest
And eager eyes

A Bit Of History About Your Own Adams County

By B. F. M. MACPHERSON

Rev. Francis Laird, D.D.

In writing the history of the Presbyterian Church in this county, it would be impossible to ignore the name and ministry of the Rev. Dr. Francis Laird, a pioneer preacher in the State, whose ancestors were early settlers in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania.

The late Edward McPherson, an historian of note, whose writings and researches are of inestimable value to the present day research historian, had this to say of the Rev. Laird: "The Rev. Francis Laird, D.D., has an unbroken pastorate of a half century in the Poke Run Presbyterian congregation, near Murrsville, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. His pastorate with them began June 24, 1800, and ended June 21, 1850.

"The ancestors of the Rev. Dr. Laird were early settlers in our Upper Conewago settlement and the Rev. Laird was born on the banks of that creek, 'across the meadow and within easy call of the house of the McConaughty family where, in Mr. Laird's early years, lived his friend and pupil, afterwards the Rev. Dr. David McConaughty, the President of Washington College. The Rev. McConaughty was born in 1775 and the Rev. Laird in 1771.

"The grandfather of the Rev. Francis Laird, D.D., was John Laird, who died in 1706, and was buried in the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Graveyard (sometimes called Sander's). Over the grave of John Laird was erected a large, flat, black slatestone, covering the entire grave. On this marker was carved a most curious coat-of-arms, bearing as a device upon the shield, severed limbs and gushing blood — memento of ancient times in Scotland.

"The Laird family remained in the old neighborhood for many years, for among the assessed residents of Franklin Township, York (now Adams) County, in 1779 was John Laird for 654 acres, William Laird for 744 acres, also single men John Laird, William Laird, and Robert Laird. This last John Laird died or left the neighborhood about 1830.

"Francis Laird was given an academic education, after which he had charge of the Big Spring Academy, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, for three years. In 1792 he entered Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania. He graduated from this institution in 1794, with distinction as 'the best classical scholar in the college.' He studied theology with the Rev. Dr. Cooper, pastor of Middle Spring Presbyterian Church, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, and was licensed to preach by Carlisle Presbytery on April 13, 1797.

Weds Miss Moore

"Shortly afterwards he went to Western Pennsylvania and there labored in the mountains of Fayette County. On June 24, 1800, he was settled by Redstone Presbytery over the Presbyterian congregation at Poke Run, Westmoreland County. He was married shortly thereafter to Miss Mary Moore, of Conrigny, in the same county. The Rev. Laird died April 6, 1851 — shortly after he resigned his charge at Poke Run. "Mr. Laird and Mr. McConaughty, boys together in our County (Adams), died in Western Pennsylvania, within two years of each other."

In the burial ground of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, the following members of the Laird family are buried:—

Died At Age 66

1. "Here lies ye body of John Laird who departed this life May the 26th, 1766. Aged 66 years."

Note:—This is the "Arm and Leg stone" and marks the grave of the grandfather of the Rev. Francis Laird, D.D. Without a doubt other members of the family are buried in the family plot and their graves were never marked or, with the passing of the years, the stones have disappeared.

In the files of the "Adams Centinel" the following data on the Laird family is found, under the dates given, as follows:—

1. Wednesday, September 10, 1806 —

"Departed this life, on the evening of August 11, 1806, Miss Martha Laird, daughter of William Laird, of Franklin Township, this County."

In Unmarked Grave

Note:—A daughter of the William Laird, who was taxed in Franklin Township, York (now Adams) County, in 1799. Probably a granddaughter of the John Laird buried in Lower Marsh Creek Graveyard. It is reasonable to assume that Martha Laird is buried in the same cemetery in an unmarked grave.

2. Wednesday, May 15, 1811 — "Departed this life, on the 30th of April (1811) Robert Laird, of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Note:—Presumably a son of John Laird, who was a pioneer settler in what is now Adams County. Laird is probably buried in Lower Marsh Creek Burial Ground in an unmarked grave.

3. Wednesday, March 15, 1815 — "Died, Thursday, March 9, 1815, after a short illness, Miss Jane Laird, of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Relationship Unknown

Note:—Undoubtedly a member of the old Laird family and a relative of the Rev. Francis Laird, D.D., but the exact degree of relationship is not known. Jane Laird is, without a doubt, buried in Lower Marsh Creek Churchyard in an unmarked grave in the family plot.

4. Wednesday, March 22, 1815 — "Died, Wednesday, March 15, 1815, at a very advanced age, Mrs. Hannah Laird, of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Note:—Hannah Laird could be the wife of either William or Robert Laird, who, in turn, were the sons of John Laird, the pioneer. The fact that her husband's name is not mentioned in her obituary is fairly conclusive evidence that she was a widow at the time of her death.

5. Wednesday, March 22, 1815 — "Died, Sunday, March 19, 1815, Miss Polly Laird, daughter of the above mentioned deceased lady (Mrs. Hannah Laird), of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Note:—The above item is self-explanatory. Polly (or Mary) Laird is probably buried in the family plot in Lower Marsh Creek Graveyard in an unmarked grave.

6. Wednesday, February 12, 1823 —

"Died Wednesday, February 5, 1823, Mr. John Laird, of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Note:—A son or grandson of John Laird, the pioneer, probably the "single man," who was taxed in Franklin Township, York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania, in 1799. Beyond a doubt this John Laird is buried in the family burial plot in an unmarked grave.

7. Monday, March 23, 1835 — "Died, February 28, 1835, Mrs. Hannah Laird, of near Murrsville, this County, aged about 43 years."

Note:—An unknown branch of the Laird family tree but nonetheless an authentic twig of the same — the exact degree of relationship being unknown. Again it seems only fair to say that this Hannah Laird is probably buried in Lower Marsh Creek Cemetery in an unmarked grave.

3-Volume History

In the three-volume history of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, written during the latter part of the nineteenth century, a grandson of the Rev. Dr. Francis Laird wrote of his family as follows:—

"The founder of the Laird clan in this country was John Laird, who came here from Donegal County, Province of Ulster, Ireland. The family was Scotch in its origin, but went over from Scotland to Ireland, with many others, in the reign of James I. Upon the tombstone of John Laird, the emigrant, dated 1766, in Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Cemetery, there still exists, in a fine state of preservation, the carving of a curious coat-of-arms, bearing in a device upon the shield, the severed limbs and spouting blood, which was undoubtedly intended to be a memento to coming generations of the terrible time in old Scotland when men gave their lives for opinion's sake."

The notes on the Rev. Dr. Francis Laird and his family will be continued in a future column.

Senate And House Terms Start Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the first session of the 86th Congress will not get under way until Wednesday, the terms of all the House members and of the newly elected Senators start as of noon today.

Members go on the payroll automatically at that time, although they will not be sworn in and able to vote until after ceremonies at the opening session of Wednesday.

The Constitution fixes noon of Jan. 3 for the start of the terms of newly-elected members of Congress. It also sets this as the time for starting the new session, but permits Congress to provide otherwise.

MINISTER RAPS HIGH LIVING BY YANKS ABROAD

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Presbyterian minister says American businessmen are living "high on the hog" while overseas on business and by so doing are hurting U.S. prestige more than Red propaganda does.

Dr. Theophilus Mills Taylor, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said Americans living in exclusive groups abroad are stirring resentment.

Dr. Taylor spoke at a news conference at Xenia Seminary in Pittsburgh and announced plans for an institute to train laymen about to go overseas. He said the first such institute will be held Jan. 30 at Stony Point, N.Y.

Toured Far East

Just back from a six-week tour of the Far East, Dr. Taylor mentioned Hong Kong, Tokyo, Seoul and Bangkok among the places where he said "exclusive little American ghettos exist."

"The Americans," Dr. Taylor said, "have more gadgets, more luxuries, more servants than they were ever accustomed to in the states."

Dr. Taylor said his criticism was specifically aimed at Americans in commercial life. The state department, he said, has started overseas missions for government workers. Missionary workers abroad do not usually isolate themselves from the people of the countries they are in, Dr. Taylor said.

BIG NEWS IN 1959

Berlin To Create Diplomatic

Headlines: Khrushchev Could Trade Out East Germany

BERLIN IS NOT the Big Story of 1958 or any other recent year. But it is certainly the most chronic. It is a good bet for 1959.

Headlines may temporarily scream of Hungary, China, Lebanon, Iraq, Egypt, Quenoy, but they always return to Berlin. It has long been the unadmitted focal point of aims and counter aims by both Russia and the western allies. Dispositions in strength are the convincing evidence.

RUSSIA HAS in East Germany 22 well equipped, crack divisions, with an armada of jet fighters based within support distances.

America and her NATO associates have only 17 divisions, with appropriate air support, either in West Germany or so concentrated that they can readily be deployed should Khrushchev take recourse to violence.

The blunt insistence by NATO leaders, most particularly last week by Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak, that the allies would balance off any manpower shortage by battlefield use of small, defensive atomic weapons, even though Russia abstained from atomics, gives further, eloquent evidence of the importance the West attaches to using West Berlin to keep a foot in the East German door.

With so much opposing power poised within striking distance of one another, what are the probabilities that 1959 may be the year of the big eruption. That would be a big story.

THERE IS NO MORE reason for alarm during 1959 than there was in 1949, so why worry about it?

Stalin, at that time, played a bluff up to the last card and then backed away. Khrushchev has proved himself more apt at backing and filling than was the more adamant, brutal, and less imaginative Stalin.

Indeed, 1959 could be the year in which the Kremlin decides to trade out East Germany to shore up positions elsewhere.

The recent West Berlin vote in support of Willy Brandt was so and in fact Germany the unrest with the Grotewohl-Ulbricht, puppet regime is so definite that any incident could create riots and world disapproval.

UNLIKE HUNGARY, which more than paid its way, East Germany is a losing proposition. The burdensome, economic cost of trying to make East Germany and East Berlin more or less comparable to booming and prosperous free Germany has created Russian economic liabilities rather than assets.

This situation must become worse and worse for communism the longer the West remains in the dyke that jeopardizes communism's western barrier.

This explains Khrushchev's recent effort to bluff the West out of Berlin, at which he has conspicuously failed. He has already, in effect, asked the West to make him a proposition. Failure in negotiations can result only in continuance of the present status or recourse to violence.

STATUS QUO will be a victory for the West. Should Khrushchev choose violence, initially he will not use the 22 Soviet divisions. He will seek a "small war" by

SUN TO BUILD THREE VESSELS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moore-McCormack Lines, Inc., New York has signed a $30,196,542 contract with Sun Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Chester, Pa., for construction of three single-screw cargo vessels.

The vessels, to cost $10,065,514 each, will be built with a construction subsidy under which the government will pay 49.2 per cent of construction costs.

The ships will be 484 feet long, with a 68-foot beam and a speed of 18 knots. Each will have accommodations for 12 passengers.

R. L. Burke, president, and W. M. Craemer, secretary, signed the contract Friday for Sun Shipbuilding. George L. Holt, executive vice president, and Albert F. Chrysler, vice president and secretary, signed for Moore-McCormack. Clarence G. Morse, chairman of the Maritime Board, signed for the government.

The contract is part of a long-range ship replacement program. Older ships of the Moore-McCormack fleet will be traded in to the government to be retained in the national defense reserve fleet.

ordering Ulbricht to unleash his East German army of 110,000 men, 1,500 Russian tanks, and 300-plane "air police," to seal off West Berlin.

But diverting these bayonets and tanks to diplomatic adventures, rather than keeping Ulbricht and the puppet Reds in business, could immediately bring on the East German revolt and another Hungarian affair, which Khrushchev fears.

MEANWHILE, the new army of West Germany would not be idle. It now numbers more than 160,000 men not counting a growing air force that will soon near 1,000 planes. The probabilities of this force winning, and thereby liberating East Germany, without any other NATO forces firing a shot, are extremely good. But that would be giving Khrushchev his "small war" and the West has unpleasant memories of Korea.

Hence Spaak's pronouncement reminds the Kremlin of the Duke of Wellington's famous axiom: "Great nations cannot fight small wars."

All this suggests status quo for Berlin through 1959; or a Russian trade-out from an untenable situation. This latter could be the Big Story of 1959. In any event, Berlin will be big in the news.

SPRING HILL'S FATE UNKNOWN

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP)—The fate of this town of tragedy is in the balance.

The Canadian and Nova Scotia governments are trying to find an answer. Springhill's 7,000 residents are impatient to learn what's to become of them.

Mayor Ralph Gilroy in two years has guided the citizens through two mine tragedies—total dead 114 — and a 1½ million dollar fire in the town's business district. Confident that Springhill will recover, he says:

"The governments are doing everything in their power. By spring we'll have an

Bullet Dribblers Meet Crusaders Here Monday In Single Game At 8:30

After a three-week layoff due to the holiday recess, Gettysburg College's athletic teams will resume activity next week with a heavy program.

Four games are on schedule for Bob Hulton's varsity basketball squad, first of which will be here Monday evening at 8:30 with Susquehanna. There will be no preliminary.

Following Monday's game the Bullets meet Navy at Annapolis Wednesday, Johns Hopkins here Thursday, and Lehigh at Bethlehem on Saturday.

The Bullets are hopeful of better things with the New Year. They dropped six of seven games prior to the holidays but in doing so encountered some of the toughest teams on their schedule.

Varsity Starts Drills
Coach Hulton called his boys back for a brief workout Thursday evening while double sessions were held Friday and again today.

For one of the few times this season the Bullets will enjoy a height advantage when they meet Susquehanna. Harry Powers, 6-5, a junior, is the tallest of the Crusaders. Next in line are Maurice Bobst and Wesley Hunt, both 6-3 sophomores, and Gene Witak, 6-2 senior, and Allan Warnau, 6-2 sophomore. Witak is co-captain with Bob Probert 6-1 junior. Susquehanna bowed to Lebanon Valley 66-54 in its last outing.

Howie Shoemaker's freshmen (3-2) have three games next week. They meet the Phebes at Annapolis Wednesday, entertain St. Francis Prep Thursday in a preliminary to the varsity-Hopkins game, and oppose the Lehigh frosh, also a preliminary to the varsity contest, at Bethlehem on Saturday.

Other Teams In Action
The college wrestling team (0-2) meets unbeaten Dickinson at Carlisle on Wednesday and hosts Hofstra next Saturday.

The Bullet swimmers, losers to VMI in their only engagement, journey to Swarthmore Wednesday and meet Loyola here next Saturday.

QUITS GLOVES FOR COPS, GUN

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Gloves or gun?

Newark's punching policeman, Eddie Dixon, has chosen the gun. He made up his mind Friday he would rather pound a beat as a $4,600-a-year patrolman than pound opponents as a prizefighter. The decision could cost him $20,000 this year, said his manager, Bobby Nelson, including a $4,000 television fee for a scheduled main event bout next Friday in Madison Square Garden.

Dixon was to have met 10th ranked middleweight Gene "Ace" Armstrong of Elizabeth. But if he did, Police Director Joseph F. Weldon said he would have to leave the force.

He couldn't hold both jobs, said Weldon, who is opposed to officers having outside work.

Couldn't Leave Job
"I just couldn't walk away from my job," said Dixon, a promising middleweight of 24. The Friday bout would have been the first main event appearance for the young boxer who has a 14-2 record.

Dixon already had signed a contract with the International Boxing Club for the Armstrong fight.

"He should be allowed to go through with this bout and then make up his mind," said an IBC spokesman.

The IBC said it would not take any legal action.

NORTH HOPES TO EVEN COUNT AGAINST SOUTH

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—An underdog North squad will be trying to even the count in the 10th annual Senior Bowl football classic today.

The South has won 5 of the previous games, the North 4.

There have been no ties, although 2 games have been decided on 2 points and 1 point. Should there be a deadlock at the end of the regular playing time today, a sudden death playoff will follow.

The Southerners of Coach Paul Brown have been made a touch-down favorite. One reason is the passing of quarterback Buddy Humphrey of Baylor and the passing of Billy Stacy of Mississippi State. The combination accounted for three touchdowns in the North-South Shrine game at Miami, and Humphrey passed for two other scores there.

Other South backs are big Theron Sapp of Georgia and Don Brown of Houston.

Lee Grosscup of Utah is expected to direct Coach Joe Kuharich's North squad. His running backs will be Joe Morrison of Cincinnati, Alan Miller of Boston College and Norm Odyniec of Notre Dame.

There was a chance of some rain for the game, for which about 30,000 fans are expected. The contest will be televised nationally by NBC, with a blackout within a 100-mile radius of Mobile.

Kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST).

MAY RECALL PLAYERS FROM CUBAN LOOPS

NEW YORK (AP)—Major and minor league clubs today considered the advisability of recalling their players from strike-ridden Cuba.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick has given the green light to such action without fear of violating any agreement. A similar directive was issued in Columbus, Ohio, by George M. Trautman, president of the minors.

The Cuban Winter League has been shut down during the revolution. Frick told the club owners to use their own judgment in any recall action. None of the players have been reported involved in any incidents.

Almendares and Marianao, each of which have seven players under contract to major league teams, are involved in a hot fight for the pennant.

Art Fowler, a pitcher for the Spokane Indians of the Pacific Coast League, said by phone Friday from Havana that he was asked the league would resume operations next Monday.

International League President Frank Shaughnessy said in Montreal he plans no action concerning players performing in Cuba from the Triple AA leagues.

Some of the major leaguers down there include Minnie Minoso of Cleveland; Tony Taylor, Chicago Cubs; Camilo Pascual, Albie Pearson and Pedro Ramos of Washington; Chico Fernandez of Philadelphia; and Bob Shaw, Chicago White Sox.

Maryland Talks To Wyoming Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Wyoming football coach Bob Devaney, invited to the University of Maryland to talk about the coaching vacancy here, says the discussions were merely exploratory and the job "was not offered to me."

Devaney says he's interested in the coaching job, vacated when Tommy Mont's contract was not renewed, but he added:

"I got the impression they (college officials) were going to wait until after the NCAA convention in Cincinnati Jan. 7" before deciding on Mont's successor.

Devaney is a 43-year-old graduate of Alma College in Michigan. Mont was forced to resign after 3 losing seasons, in which his teams won 11 games, lost 18 and tied 1.

PCC CHAMPS STOP HUSKIES IN BIG UPSET

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's too early to tell, but this year's Pacific Coast Conference basketball championship may have been decided right off the bat.

Washington, hailed as a potential national contender, was regarded as the team to replace defending titlist California. But the picture has changed.

Cal, PCC champ for two straight years under Coach Pete Newell, attended to that Friday night. Seven-point underdogs, the Bears smacked the Huskies 54-43. The unexpected triumph may give the Bears the impetus for a third straight title.

Big 6-10 Darrel Imhoff and Danny Fitzpatrick sparked the Bears. Fitzpatrick tossed in 21 points and Imhoff held Washington star Doug Smart to a measly five points.

Four-Game Card

The game topped a four-game PCC card that opened a heavy weekend of competition in college basketball as major teams turned from holiday tournament outings to conference action.

Southern California and UCLA also posted surprise victories. Only Stanford made the odds stand up in the PCC by beating Washington State 59-40. Southern Cal, sparked by Jim Hanna's 18 points, upset Oregon 65-56 and UCLA, led by 14 points by world decathlon champ Rafer Johnson, downed Idaho 62-53. Paul Newmann's 24 points led Stanford.

West Virginia, bumped out of the top 10 this week, walloped major games outside the PCC. In Yale 80-52 in one of Friday night's others, Utah State nipped Washington of St. Louis 69-66. Seattle whipped Miami of Ohio 96-73. Rhode Island humbled Vermont 84-77 and once-beaten Providence beat touring Gonzaga 76-65.

DENNY MOYER WINS HIS 19TH STRAIGHT BOUT

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Some kids want to grow up to be railroad engineers. Some want to be policemen. Some doctors. Denny Moyer always wanted to be a fighter.

It was natural. Denny's father, Harry, was a pretty fair welter in the Pacific Coast area years ago. His uncle, Tommy, who now is the promoter in Portland, Ore., was a great amateur boxer. His older brother, Phil, is a good looking middleweight prospect.

At the age of 19, this handsome youngster from Portland is a professional boxer with 19 straight victories and no defeats. He almost lost his first bout Friday night at Madison Square Garden but he scraped home on a controversial split decision.

Judge For Mexican

One of the judges, Artie Aidala, thought Mexico's Gaspar Ortega deserved the decision 6-3-1. But the other officials voted for Moyer. Referee Arthur Mercante had it 6-3-1 for Ortega and 6-4 for Moyer. The Associated Press card had it 6-4 for Ortega and 6-5 for Moyer. A late switch made Moyer a 6-5 favorite.

The experienced Ortega, ranked No. 5 by Ring and No. 6 by the National Boxing Assn. in the welterweight class, had been an 8-5 favorite. A late switch made Moyer a 6-5 favorite.

Ortega, a sad-faced warrior from Mexicali, Mexico has been in with the best in the class. He was eliminated in an early round of the welter tournament held to determine a successor to Carmen Basilio and lost two decisions to Don Jordan, the latest welter champ, during the fall.

The Mexican put pressure on Moyer who used a darting left jab and a sharp right uppercut with effectiveness early in the fight. Ortega bullied him with steady pressure in the middle rounds, shaking him up in the third and again in the fifth with a long overhand right to the head.

Moyer weighed 148½, Ortega 146½.

Jack Bream's much improved and hustling Thunderbolts rushed off to a 21-10 lead in the first period and were never headed.

Jesse Sheely was the big gun for the winners, connecting for 27 points. Jim Patterson added 18 and Karl Bankert 11.

Dave and Johnny Sprinkle bore the brunt of the attack for Fairfield with 18 and 13 respectively.

Bermudian Springs also opened league play successfully by defeating New Oxford 68-58 at East Berlin in a foul-infested game. Three Bermudian players and two New Oxford lads were forced out because of fouls. Bermudian's edge came at the foul line where it made good on 26 of 42 tries.

New Oxford converted 10 of 26. Bob Weigle topped Bermudian with 17 points with Charley Chronister and George Williams each looping 16. Bill Weikert sank 14 for the Colonials and Bill Baker accounted for 11.

Syracuse ended a seven-game losing streak by defeating the Warriors 117-107 in the second game of a doubleheader at Philadelphia despite Woody Sautsberry's 41-point spree for the loser.

In the first game, Cincinnati-winner of only 7 previous games in 32 outings — dumped Western Division runner-up Detroit 111-104 for its first triumph over the Pistons in 5 games.

Lose 5-Point Lead

A similar situation evolved at Minneapolis where New York, second in the Eastern sector, carried a 10-point lead into the final quarter, only to suffer its first setback in 5 games with the Lakers, 107-97.

Four men each scored 20 points as the Nats balanced attack overcame Sautsberry's one-man effort. Larry Costello had 29 points to lead the visitors. Hal Greer contributed 25, Johnny Kerr 23 and Dolph Schayes 20.

Jack Twyman spearheaded the Royals victory with 34 points. His two foul shots with 7:07 left pulled Cincinnati into an 87-86 tie never relinquished.

Hitting 21 of his 27 points in the second half, Dick Garmaker brought the Lakers from a 76-66 third quarter deficit to overtake the Knicks.

LAYNE, MATSON BOLT PRO BOWL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pittsburgh's Bobby Layne and Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals have started a controversy by ducking the Pro Bowl to be played in Los Angeles Jan. 11.

They are in Hawaii for Sunday's Hula Bowl, so Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants, who assembled his Eastern all-star squad for its first workout today, called upon Eddie LeBaron of Washington and Tommy McDonald of Philadelphia to replace them.

National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell said in Philadelphia that the contract of every NFL player requires participation in the Pro Bow, if he is selected. Bell said he would recommend "severe penalties" for both players when the club owners meet Jan. 21 in Philadelphia.

Adams County Farm & Building

Winter Care Of Ewes Is Important To Lamb Crop In Spring, Zettle Says

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

How the ewe flock is fed this winter determines to a large extent the number of lambs born and raised next spring.

The number of lambs raised largely determines the success of the farm flock enterprise, for although single lambs usually outweigh twins and triplets at weaning time, the pounds of marketable lamb produced per ewe is far greater when she weans more than one lamb.

Ewes should gain 15 to 30 pounds during the pregnancy period. Feed plenty of good hay or silage. High quality roughage is even more important for sheep than it is for cattle. Ewes cannot utilize large amounts of coarse roughage, such as straw and corn stover, as well as beef cows.

When good quality is not available, it is wise to supplement the roughage ration with some high protein oil meal, about one-fourth pound per day.

Hold Grain Feeding

For economical production, hold off grain feeding until four to six weeks before lambing. Then feed about one-half pound per day. Feeding grain too liberally to bred ewes during the winter, causing them to become fat, is both unwise and expensive.

After lambing, increase grain feeding to one or one and one-half pounds per day until the ewes have access to good pasture.

If the winter ration consists of grass, hay, or corn silage, a mineral mixture high in calcium is essential. Keep any simple mixture, such as steamed bonemeal, ground limestone, and salt, mixed equal parts, available at all times in addition to plain salt.

Keep fresh water before the flock at all times, for ewes on dry feed will drink as much as one gallon per head daily.

Size Of Operation

How big should my farm be to own certain pieces of equipment? This is a question that has been on the minds of many farmers since the exit of horse and mule power from Adams County farms. A study was recently made by one of the land grant colleges to determine the minimum number of hours or acres necessary for the "break-even" point for owning equipment.

The recommended minimum number of acres for a 2-bottom 14-inch plow is 70 acres per year, as reported by this study. A 3-bottom 14-inch plow needs to plow 120 acres, as the minimum level of usage. Similarly, a grain drill, 50 acres; a 2-row corn planter, 90 acres; a 7-foot mower, 125 acres; a hay baler, 10,000 bales; a 12-foot self-propelled combine, 200 acres; a 6-foot drawn combine, 100 acres; a 2-row corn picker, 125 acres; a field forage chopper, 30 tons; and a manure spreader needs to haul 100 loads.

Recommended Levels

These recommended levels are not the whole story, but merely a guide. Equally important are timeliness, such as combining when grain is ready and not having to wait for a custom operator or baling when hay is ready; insurance that the crop will be cultivated and taken care of when it is time to do the job; the convenience of having mounted equipment on one power unit and another unit for trailing equipment with no down time for changeover.

All these considerations add up to make your investment in machinery a practical one even though usage of certain pieces is below the minimum recommended levels.

Dairymen Waste Feed

Colostrum provides the basic nutrients needed by a calf. It is also high in vitamins and contains antibodies which give a calf a passive immunity against many infectious diseases.

Some dairymen permit the calf to nurse its dam only once. After this they begin feeding the calf, but are careful that it received colostrum. Many dairymen keep a reserve supply of colostrum frozen in order to take care of cases in which none is produced. At times a cow may have mastitis, so produces no usable colostrum.

If it is inconvenient to save all the colostrum, feed it to other calves. It can be fed straight or mixed with other milk. Care must be taken not to overfeed it as this may cause digestive upset.

Researchers recently followed the plan of using all the colostrum with their 70-cow herd. They sold 4,000 pounds more milk in one year by changing to this calf feeding plan. In addition, their calves made greater weight gains. The feeding of colostrum did not cause scours. In fact, they fed colostrum to scouring calves with good results.

Weeders Guide

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — A famous editor once said that the best way to study the framework of a book was to read it carefully five times. On the fifth reading, in spite of the reader's boredom, the very bones of plot are revealed.

Similarly, the very best way to study the skeleton of the home landscape is during the winter months when there are no concealing leaves on the trees or distracting masses of bloom in the garden.

Close scrutiny soon enough reveals that removal of this red maple would give its next-door neighbor, the hickory, a better chance to develop; that a high louvered fence is the most effective way of achieving a private patio; that an evergreen hedge is needed to cut off the back-yard utility area; that the best spot for the flower beds are, after all, away from the house.

Pencil And Paper

This study is best accomplished with the aid of a pencil and paper, for when the time comes when outdoor work is resumed, winter-laid plans are oft forgot.

The plant and seed catalogues are arriving now, too, and within the next few weeks most of us will be deep in the pleasant job of making such vital decisions as whether to use alyssum or ageratum to edge the annual flower

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I have just finished making a radiator enclosure. It is all wood except for a perforated metal insert in the front of it. It does not seem that we are getting as much heat out of the steam radiator as formerly, yet we want to keep the enclosure for the sake of appearance. What can be done to get the heat into the room? I had thought the perforations in the metal would allow enough of the heat to escape.

ANSWER: Any radiator cover, no matter how well it is made, beds, and whether to try a few of those new petunias instead of sticking to the familiar shades which go so nicely with the ivy geraniums in the window box.

Planning a garden and arranging one's own small bit of landscape is a very individual problem. No two people, fortunately, have the same tastes and no two families have the same needs for their grounds. A household full of children requires a play area which is unneeded by the family of adults who live next door in a house which is almost identical in every detail.

Some Rules Same

Even so, some general rules can be applied by both families. One applies to the size of materials used: great big trees will dwarf a small house just as lilliput-size plants just about disappear against a large home. Keep plantings in proportion.

Color is also important. Generally speaking, it is wiser to use softer colors close to the house, and spot the more vivid and exciting shades in a more distant location.

Taste Individual

One famous gardener, answering the question of a worried homeowner about whether forsythia would look well planted against a red brick house, replied that the mere fact the homeowner had wondered about the combination would be sufficient argument against it. Taste, however, is a highly individual matter. I dislike extremely salvia — red sage — and coleus, and neither grow in my garden. A gardening friend who lives nearby loves them both — and each year is complimented for her stunning displays.

Another important consideration is the amount of time the gardener proposes to put into the landscaping. For those with limited time and inclination, plan on few garden beds to be maintained, few fences to be painted, few shrubs to be pruned and fed. For those, the answer is broad stretch of lawn which may be mowed without the necessity of cutting around individual shrubs or without edging garden beds, and with evergreen hedges which do not require frequent trimming.

will interfere with the spread of the heat to some extent. There are two things you can do to cut this heat loss to a minimum. One is to place an aluminum foil in back of the radiator against the wall. The other is to drill a series of holes into the wood at the top of the radiator enclosure and another series into the two wooden sides.

QUESTION: Please tell me the difference between fibered roof coating and fibered roof cement.

ANSWER: The roof cement has the consistency of paste and is used principally for repair work. It is especially good in filling a crack or seam break which is causing a leak. Roof coating is a liquid and is a preventative against those same cracks of seam breaks. It should be used to protect a roof which is still in good condition.

QUESTION: I am negotiating to buy a house on which I understand I can obtain an open-end FHA mortgage. Can you tell me the advantage of such a mortgage?

ANSWER: An open-end mortgage is one which provides for making additional advances to the borrower at some future time. A mortgage insured by the FHA may be increased later by means of the open-end provision without entailing the costs of a new mortgage transaction when the borrower needs funds for improvements or alterations to the property.

Gets Commuter's Ticket For Xmas

BOUND BROOK, N.J. (AP) — The financially pressed railroads need more commuters like Edward Hauber.

Hauber takes the 7:28 a.m. Jersey Central Lines train daily, though he isn't going any place in particular.

He is a 12-year-old who likes to ride the trains. So his father bought him a weekly commutation ticket as a Christmas present.

The road's public relations department plans to give the boy the VIP treatment, and a ride in the cab of the diesel locomotive.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of the currency Friday issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Wednesday, December 31.

The Federal Reserve Board also called for condition statements from member banks as of Dec. 31 and similar action was taken by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Rhode Island became the first state to formally accept Decoration Day as a legal holiday. It did so in 1874.

DON'T OVERDO WHEN DOING IT YOURSELF

By VIVIAN BROWN

How can you be a do-it-yourself type and maintain a good disposition?

That's the question from the wife of an amateur handyman.

"My husband and I were very happy," writes a Croton, N. Y., housewife, "until he started to build a new kitchen. Now after months that seem a lifetime he is a ghost of his former self, tense and nervous, irritable with the children, unable to eat or sleep. He spends every waking moment in the kitchen, except when he is working out of the home. He doesn't take a minute out for relaxation.

Over Ambitious

"We have grown to dislike the kitchen," she continues. "I have been helping my husband by doing the plastering, sanding and painting, while he does the carpentry, plumbing, electricity and planning. But sometimes I feel that if I could wake up and see my old kitchen, I would be very happy.

"The cabinets aren't quite finished, so I keep pots and food on the porch. The food freezes out there, and when I made pancakes recently, no one could pour the syrup. We all burst into tears. It was the final blow."

This harried housewife learned by experience the hazards of over ambitious do-it-yourself.

Spare Yourself

The big idea to keep in mind when remodeling a home is Don't Kill Yourself. Other ideas that might be helpful include these:

1. Take time out from the project occasionally, so you don't feel you are pinned to it.
2. As long as it is going to take three months, don't worry that it may take four. If you can enjoy life while you do it, the other month won't matter.
3. When doing over your house do not get up earlier or go to bed later than usual. That is how amateur handymen get fed up with a job.

Plan Ahead

4. Figure out the cost of everything before you begin the project. Don't start getting nervous when the bills pour in, and you haven't even begun the big tasks.

5. If you can avoid it, do not enter the room that is being remodeled. If the kitchen is being done over, move a small stove and refrigerator into another room, and try to keep things going without stumbling over rubble.

6. It's a good idea not to invite kibitzers in to get your teeth on edge. People who carry suggestion boxes in their wallets al-

Paint is used both for decorative and preservative purposes. But applied in the right places and in the right colors, it can help reduce home accidents by serving as a danger signal and making hazardous areas more visible.

Stripes are the best way to mark the top and bottom steps of basement stairs, using orange and black or black and white. First, paint the entire step the lighter color. When the paint has thoroughly dried, put on masking tape in the striped pattern and paint the exposed area black. The tape should not be stripped off until the paint has dried.

If you feel that such a pattern will detract from the appearance of a finished basement or playroom, then paint the bottom step in a contrasting color that fits in with the general decorative scheme and still highlights the danger.

Brighten Stairwells

Walls of dark, enclosed stairwells throughout the house should be painted white, ivory or yellow — the colors with the highest reflective power — and should be well illuminated. Dabbling the light switches with luminescent paint for easy location is also a good idea.

Where there are small children or elderly members of the household, it's wise to draw attention to all thresholds by applying floor enamel in a color to contrast with the surrounding floor colors.

Garage doors that slide forward and up into the roof of the garage are head-bumpers. A bright hue painted along the bottom edge of the door will be a constant reminder of the hazard involved.

Driveway Outline

A driveway in the suburbs or country that is not lighted can be outlined by rocks painted with white or fluorescent paints. Gates and posts marking entranceways can be indicated in the same manner.

Where there are low pipes that might spell trouble they can be painted yellow, which has the highest visibility. And industry has learned that painting dark corners white tends to reduce the habit of tossing rags, papers and other litter into those corners.

Red should indicate where the home fire extinguisher is kept. Fuse boxes should be painted with light-colored or luminescent paint.

ways manage to put a crimp in other people's plans.

7. When doing any home project try to treat it as a hobby, relaxing when you've had your fill, rather than going on doggedly to see the end of it.

as they usually must be located when the house is dark. The emergency first-aid cabinet might be identified with green paint, a color traditionally associated with safety.

Don't Paint Ladder

There are dozens of other places in the home where a little paint will serve as a safety reminder. But there's one article on which paint should not be used — and this, too, is a safety measure. Don't paint a wooden ladder. Use linseed oil or some other clear preservative. Paint will hide cracks that might develop later and thus prevent you from getting advance notice that the ladder is becoming unsafe.

Magazine Carries Feather's Article

The December issue of "The Journal of Business Education" carries a featured article by James R. Feather, instructor in office practice and business English at Gettysburg High School. The two-page article is accompanied by illustrations:

Titled "Meeting Individual Differences in Typewriting I," it presents a plan that has "worked well" for the author in preventing individual differences in typewriting to detract from classroom production.

Mr. Feather describes the plan in four steps involving organization of textbook materials, selection of various problems for all or some of the pupils, duplication of assignment sheets before their explanation.

He describes operation of the plan and then cites seven accomplishments the plan has earned for him in keeping students occupied, providing extra credit incentive for the better pupils, promoting individual effort and encouraging slower students among other benefits.

PILEUP ON PIKE

HARRISBURG (AP)—One man was injured Friday in a pileup of four automobiles and a truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike bridge across the Susquehanna River near here.

State police said one car went into a spin near the western end of the structure and set up a chain reaction, involving the other vehicles.

POPULARITY OF WESTERNS IS ANALYZED

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Everybody knows that Westerns are the most popular fare on television. But why?

Let's look at "Tales of Wells Fargo," consistently one of the better horse operas.

Dale Robertson, the Oklahoman who stars, lays it all to teamwork. Practically all the present crew has been with the series since it started three years ago.

No Scoreheads

Producer is Nat Holt, an old timer at making action pictures. Director is Earl Bellamy, long associated with Holt in moviemaking and now on his 68th "Wells Fargo" segment. Chief writer is Frank Gruber, among the most prolific of Western writers.

Everyone is compatible. Scoreheads were weeded out early. Each show is filmed in two and a half days — two a week. That leaves no time for temperment.

Featured actors are TV and movie pros. Robertson, who owns 51 per cent of the series, won't hire the new crop of Actor's Studio talent.

"Sweat shifted idiots," he calls them.

Keep Things Informal

Both Bellamy and Robertson are against memorizing scripts and long rehearsals.

"I don't want anyone on the show listening for cue lines," says Robertson. "The viewers sense the unnaturalness immediately."

Informality is encouraged. Robertson helps keep things informal. He never takes himself or his acting seriously.

But this year he will gross more than one million dollars from the series — and that's serious money.

RED ASKS FOR MIKE AND NIXON CONFERENCES

By JOHN A. SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's Anastas Mikoyan is reported interested in talking over foreign policy problems with Vice President Nixon when he visits here next week.

It is highly likely that Nixon will agree to meet the Kremlin trouble shooter some time during his four or five day stay.

Mikoyan, who holds the rank of first deputy premier, is also understood to want to meet with President Eisenhower. But the White House has made no move yet to arrange such a meeting, mainly because the visit is billed as "informal." The Nixon-Mikoyan conference appears to be the most important being mentioned in sticks, sliced apples, chocolate pudding.

Bread and butter and choice of white or chocolate milk will be served with each meal.

formally in advance of the 63-year-old Kremlin leader.

Mikoyan, accompanied by his son and five aides, is due to arrive Sunday morning in New York for a 2½ to 3 week visit which includes stops in 10 major American cities.

The State Department and the Soviet embassy have joined in cloaking his schedule with an aura of mystery. This is partly due to security precautions aimed at guarding him from anti-Communist demonstrators.

Most authorities believe Mikoyan's Washington trip is connected with the Berlin crisis. Mikoyan may have been given an assignment by Premier Khrushchev to make known the Kremlin's eagerness to settle the Berlin dispute. But officials who believe this acknowledge they are only guessing.

Alaska Is Proclaimed 49th State; New Flag

By FRANK W. VAILLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proclaims Alaska the 49th state today, pushing the boundaries of the United States within sight of Russian soil.

At the same time, the new 49-star flag will be unveiled.

Signing of the presidential proclamation at the White House at noon today was timed to coincide with expiration of the 88th Congress.

Several proposed flag designs were presented to the President Friday at his Gettysburg farm for his final decision. The public and organizations had submitted almost 2,000 suggestions.

Use Flag July 4
The new flag becomes official next July 4. Officials have said it would be technically incorrect to display the new flag before then, although there will be no penalty for such use.

Admission of Alaska as the first new state since 1912 marks the formal end of the territorial status Alaska has held since 1906. It gives Alaskans control of their government for the first time, as well as a voting representation in Congress.

Sens.-elect E. L. (Bob) Bartlett and Ernest Gruening and Rep.-elect Ralph J. Rivers will take their oath of office when the 86th Congress meets Wednesday. All three are Democrats.

Alaska's entry brings into the union a rich store of timber, mineral and other resources. Its area is one-fifth that of its 46 sister states and more than twice that of Texas.

With an estimated 212,000 population — smallest of any state —

Alaska also will add a new ingredient to the nation's politics. In 1960, Alaskans for the first time will cast three electoral votes for president.

Politically, the new state government will be solidly Democratic.

Alaska's quest for statehood has gone on since 1916—nearly half the period it has spent under the U.S. flag since its purchase from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000.

NIGHT SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY IN NEW JERSEY

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer
GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Paul Jacoby Jr. was a bank trust officer for 40 years.

Now he's the Rev. Paul Jacoby Jr., curate of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in South Ozone Park. He was able to attain the Protestant Episcopal priesthood late in life through the George Mercer Jr. Memorial School of Theology, the Diocese of Long Island's unusual night school for clergy candidates.

The school, located on the grounds of the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City, reached full flower Christmas week with the consecration of its Chapel of the Good Shepherd.

Mercer is like any other theological school except that its student body is made up of older men who hold fulltime jobs during the day and study for the priesthood two nights a week and Saturday.

The school was begun in February 1955 by the Rt. Rev. James P. De Wolfe, bishop of Long Island. First classes were held in the Cathedral House or at nearby St. Paul's School.

Before that, men who received the call to the priesthood late in life studied for the ministry under private tutors assigned by Bishop De Wolfe. The bishop found the system "not altogether commendable."

Only Night School
"The older men who have read for the Holy Orders under tutors have lacked any community life in the course of their preparation," says the bishop.

"They have missed contact with the range of personalities and the modes of handling subject matter which are now provided by a numerous faculty."

"The danger of their reflecting chiefly the reactions and attitudes of a single instructor was a serious drawback calling for drastic change in procedure."

The "drastic change in procedure" became the Mercer school, the Episcopal Church's only night school for the training of clergymen.

ASTRONOMER DIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Robert M. Cole, 67, teacher, astronomer and organizer of the Bryn Athyn moonwatch group, died Thursday in Pennsylvania Hospital where she was taken some time ago after a heart attack.

Mrs. Cole, a native of Philadelphia, retired last year after serving for 15 years as dean of women at the college of the Academy of the New Church, Bryn Athyn. She also headed the school's astronomy department and taught sociology.

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—Dale R. Slear, 36, of nearby Hummels Wharf, met instant death Thursday on a home-made snowsled near his home.

Slear had powered a home-made sled with a propeller attached to the rear.

The sled tilted and the propeller struck Slear's head.
